

VISION MAP: Knoxville to the Smokies Greenway

Imagine riding a trail from downtown Knoxville all the way to Alcoa. Or to Maryville. Or even to Townsend and the edge of the Great Smoky Mountains National Park.

Now do more than imagine it. Join us in creating a greenway from Knoxville to the Smokies. Check out the Vision Map to the right to see where this greenway could take you.

A work in progress

A greenway from downtown Knoxville to the Knox/Blount County line is already planned and funded. The City of Knoxville will complete the segment to Marine Park by the end of 2012. The rest will be constructed through a combination of projects, including the widening of Alcoa Highway.

Completing the vision

We've created a concept plan for how the greenway will continue through Blount County, tying into the Alcoa and Maryville greenways and heading east toward Townsend. That concept is shown on the map as "proposed." We'll be doing more plans soon, to continue the plan all the way to Townsend and the edge of the Smokies. Visit our website for details and for the latest regional greenway news.
